

Sharon Cureton, Ph.D.

HCD Ph.D. Alumna - Class of 2014

DISSERTATION TITLE:

The Role of Exchange Ideology in Coworker Social Support and Work Engagement

Chair: Dr. Heather Annulis

EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE:

Bachelor's Degree

Personnel and Industrial Relations Management
University of South Alabama, 1986

Master's Degree

Business Administration
Auburn University, 1992

Doctoral Degree

Human Capital Development
The University of Southern Mississippi, 2014

RESEARCH INTERESTS:

- Job Analysis
- Development
- Project Management
- Human Resources

Dr. Cureton was recently promoted to Administration Manager with Riviera Utilities in Foley, Alabama. There, she manages human resources, facilities, and transportation departments. She is a 20-year veteran of all things "HR" and her professional specialties include job analysis, test development and administration, project management, and performance appraisal. She has worked as a Personnel Analyst, HR Director, University Instructor and Personnel Consultant. Dr. Cureton has led her local SHRM chapter (Society of Human Resource Management) as President on three different occasions.